

LONG LITIGATION IS NOW ENDED

Water Appropriations Are
Finally Granted to Com-
pany Which Will Irrigate
80,000 Acres in Northwest.

Farthington, N. M., July 27.—After three years of litigation between applicants for a water appropriation from the Animas river, Furman & Burke have been granted the right to water 80,000 acres of land lying on the west side of the Animas river just south of the Colorado state line in the northwest corner of New Mexico. It is a previous contract the water rights were transferred to the Capital Securities company, which will begin at once the preliminary work for a large canal.

When Furman & Burke made their application three years ago for an appropriation just below the state line, the territorial engineer located it on the grounds that he had already appropriated the water to Jay Turner of Aztec. Turner's scheme was to take the water from the same land with a heading in Colorado. Turner was taken to the highest court and he failed in a victory for Furman & Burke.

The land to be irrigated is all fine farm land and has practically all been fluted upon. Some of the best is known as the Meadows and lies west of the Animas river, which will have to be fluted. This is north of the settlements of Kirtland, Jeddah and Portland and is held by homesteaders and desert claimants. It is currently reported that the fluted lands extend to the line of the San Juan river from Farthington to the settlements, and there are rumors that a townsite scheme is soon to be launched along the north side of the San Juan river near the reservation line. The Meadows country would all be tributary to such a townsite.

Aside from the Meadows coming under irrigation the western part of the county has large deposits of coal which the Southern Pacific is contemplating tapping. Development reports show that it has every indication of being an oil basin and two oil wells are now prospecting for oil near Portland. There are two districts that can furnish cheap electricity. Already one electric scheme is well under way for the purpose of pumping water to higher points.

It is understood that Furman & Burke retain an interest in the Capital Securities company, and will have actual charge of the work.

PEACE ENVOYS
SAT OVER POWDER

Sideline on the Mexican Revolution
Showing How the Insurgents Smuggled Ammunition Across Border.

El Paso, Texas, July 27.—Sideline on the Mexican revolution, little touches of color that were lost in the shuffle of the battle or the accompanying confusion, are now coming to light. The newest addition to the military history of the revolution is a story that the peace commissioners who were here to represent the federal government in the negotiations which took place in peace grove, literally were sitting on high explosives each time they made a trip to and from peace grove.

It is said that the auto driver who drove Judge Carbajal and Senator Obregon to peace grove, each day from the station, had the bottom of his auto filled with cartridges for the insurgents who could hardly get his car over the sand hills on the road from Juarez to the grove. The ammunition was loaded into the auto at the station, according to the story that is being told. It was packed away under the seat of the auto.

Then the day would be driven to the Shoshone, where the peace envoys would take seats in the car and make the trip to peace grove. When known that there was enough ammunition under the seats, they were occupying to kill a regiment.

The car was not inspected when it passed through Juarez because the peace envoys occupied it. After they disembarked the driver would run his car into a shed, presumably to wait for the conference to end, but in reality to unload his deadly cargo.

In this way it is claimed that 250,000 rounds of ammunition were carried across to the insurgent camp and the entire auto driver received $1 per 1000 rounds for his trouble.

ANCIENT POTTERY ARIZONA WANTS A BIG JOBS HAVE BEEN STARTED AT THE DAM

Water Appropriations Are
Finally Granted to Com-
pany Which Will Irrigate
80,000 Acres in Northwest.

Farthington, N. M., July 27.—After three years of litigation between applicants for a water appropriation from the Animas river, Furman & Burke have been granted the right to water 80,000 acres of land lying on the west side of the Animas river just south of the Colorado state line in the northwest corner of New Mexico. It is a previous contract the water rights were transferred to the Capital Securities company, which will begin at once the preliminary work for a large canal.

When Furman & Burke made their application three years ago for an appropriation just below the state line, the territorial engineer located it on the grounds that he had already appropriated the water to Jay Turner of Aztec. Turner's scheme was to take the water from the same land with a heading in Colorado. Turner was taken to the highest court and he failed in a victory for Furman & Burke.

The land to be irrigated is all fine farm land and has practically all been fluted upon. Some of the best is known as the Meadows and lies west of the Animas river, which will have to be fluted. This is north of the settlements of Kirtland, Jeddah and Portland and is held by homesteaders and desert claimants. It is currently reported that the fluted lands extend to the line of the San Juan river from Farthington to the settlements, and there are rumors that a townsite scheme is soon to be launched along the north side of the San Juan river near the reservation line. The Meadows country would all be tributary to such a townsite.

Aside from the Meadows coming under irrigation the western part of the county has large deposits of coal which the Southern Pacific is contemplating tapping. Development reports show that it has every indication of being an oil basin and two oil wells are now prospecting for oil near Portland. There are two districts that can furnish cheap electricity. Already one electric scheme is well under way for the purpose of pumping water to higher points.

It is understood that Furman & Burke retain an interest in the Capital Securities company, and will have actual charge of the work.

PEACE ENVOYS
SAT OVER POWDER

Sideline on the Mexican Revolution
Showing How the Insurgents Smuggled Ammunition Across Border.

El Paso, Texas, July 27.—Sideline on the Mexican revolution, little touches of color that were lost in the shuffle of the battle or the accompanying confusion, are now coming to light. The newest addition to the military history of the revolution is a story that the peace commissioners who were here to represent the federal government in the negotiations which took place in peace grove, literally were sitting on high explosives each time they made a trip to and from peace grove.

It is said that the auto driver who drove Judge Carbajal and Senator Obregon to peace grove, each day from the station, had the bottom of his auto filled with cartridges for the insurgents who could hardly get his car over the sand hills on the road from Juarez to the grove. The ammunition was loaded into the auto at the station, according to the story that is being told. It was packed away under the seat of the auto.

Then the day would be driven to the Shoshone, where the peace envoys would take seats in the car and make the trip to peace grove. When known that there was enough ammunition under the seats, they were occupying to kill a regiment.

The car was not inspected when it passed through Juarez because the peace envoys occupied it. After they disembarked the driver would run his car into a shed, presumably to wait for the conference to end, but in reality to unload his deadly cargo.

In this way it is claimed that 250,000 rounds of ammunition were carried across to the insurgent camp and the entire auto driver received $1 per 1000 rounds for his trouble.

ARIZONA WANTS A BIG JOBS HAVE BEEN STARTED AT THE DAM

Water Appropriations Are
Finally Granted to Com-
pany Which Will Irrigate
80,000 Acres in Northwest.

Farthington, N. M., July 27.—After three years of litigation between applicants for a water appropriation from the Animas river, Furman & Burke have been granted the right to water 80,000 acres of land lying on the west side of the Animas river just south of the Colorado state line in the northwest corner of New Mexico. It is a previous contract the water rights were transferred to the Capital Securities company, which will begin at once the preliminary work for a large canal.

When Furman & Burke made their application three years ago for an appropriation just below the state line, the territorial engineer located it on the grounds that he had already appropriated the water to Jay Turner of Aztec. Turner's scheme was to take the water from the same land with a heading in Colorado. Turner was taken to the highest court and he failed in a victory for Furman & Burke.

The land to be irrigated is all fine farm land and has practically all been fluted upon. Some of the best is known as the Meadows and lies west of the Animas river, which will have to be fluted. This is north of the settlements of Kirtland, Jeddah and Portland and is held by homesteaders and desert claimants. It is currently reported that the fluted lands extend to the line of the San Juan river from Farthington to the settlements, and there are rumors that a townsite scheme is soon to be launched along the north side of the San Juan river near the reservation line. The Meadows country would all be tributary to such a townsite.

Aside from the Meadows coming under irrigation the western part of the county has large deposits of coal which the Southern Pacific is contemplating tapping. Development reports show that it has every indication of being an oil basin and two oil wells are now prospecting for oil near Portland. There are two districts that can furnish cheap electricity. Already one electric scheme is well under way for the purpose of pumping water to higher points.

It is understood that Furman & Burke retain an interest in the Capital Securities company, and will have actual charge of the work.

PEACE ENVOYS
SAT OVER POWDER

Sideline on the Mexican Revolution
Showing How the Insurgents Smuggled Ammunition Across Border.

El Paso, Texas, July 27.—Sideline on the Mexican revolution, little touches of color that were lost in the shuffle of the battle or the accompanying confusion, are now coming to light. The newest addition to the military history of the revolution is a story that the peace commissioners who were here to represent the federal government in the negotiations which took place in peace grove, literally were sitting on high explosives each time they made a trip to and from peace grove.

It is said that the auto driver who drove Judge Carbajal and Senator Obregon to peace grove, each day from the station, had the bottom of his auto filled with cartridges for the insurgents who could hardly get his car over the sand hills on the road from Juarez to the grove. The ammunition was loaded into the auto at the station, according to the story that is being told. It was packed away under the seat of the auto.

Then the day would be driven to the Shoshone, where the peace envoys would take seats in the car and make the trip to peace grove. When known that there was enough ammunition under the seats, they were occupying to kill a regiment.

The car was not inspected when it passed through Juarez because the peace envoys occupied it. After they disembarked the driver would run his car into a shed, presumably to wait for the conference to end, but in reality to unload his deadly cargo.

In this way it is claimed that 250,000 rounds of ammunition were carried across to the insurgent camp and the entire auto driver received $1 per 1000 rounds for his trouble.

ARIZONA WANTS A BIG JOBS HAVE BEEN STARTED AT THE DAM

Water Appropriations Are
Finally Granted to Com-
pany Which Will Irrigate
80,000 Acres in Northwest.

Farthington, N. M., July 27.—After three years of litigation between applicants for a water appropriation from the Animas river, Furman & Burke have been granted the right to water 80,000 acres of land lying on the west side of the Animas river just south of the Colorado state line in the northwest corner of New Mexico. It is a previous contract the water rights were transferred to the Capital Securities company, which will begin at once the preliminary work for a large canal.

When Furman & Burke made their application three years ago for an appropriation just below the state line, the territorial engineer located it on the grounds that he had already appropriated the water to Jay Turner of Aztec. Turner's scheme was to take the water from the same land with a heading in Colorado. Turner was taken to the highest court and he failed in a victory for Furman & Burke.

The land to be irrigated is all fine farm land and has practically all been fluted upon. Some of the best is known as the Meadows and lies west of the Animas river, which will have to be fluted. This is north of the settlements of Kirtland, Jeddah and Portland and is held by homesteaders and desert claimants. It is currently reported that the fluted lands extend to the line of the San Juan river from Farthington to the settlements, and there are rumors that a townsite scheme is soon to be launched along the north side of the San Juan river near the reservation line. The Meadows country would all be tributary to such a townsite.

Aside from the Meadows coming under irrigation the western part of the county has large deposits of coal which the Southern Pacific is contemplating tapping. Development reports show that it has every indication of being an oil basin and two oil wells are now prospecting for oil near Portland. There are two districts that can furnish cheap electricity. Already one electric scheme is well under way for the purpose of pumping water to higher points.

It is understood that Furman & Burke retain an interest in the Capital Securities company, and will have actual charge of the work.

PEACE ENVOYS
SAT OVER POWDER

Sideline on the Mexican Revolution
Showing How the Insurgents Smuggled Ammunition Across Border.

El Paso, Texas, July 27.—Sideline on the Mexican revolution, little touches of color that were lost in the shuffle of the battle or the accompanying confusion, are now coming to light. The newest addition to the military history of the revolution is a story that the peace commissioners who were here to represent the federal government in the negotiations which took place in peace grove, literally were sitting on high explosives each time they made a trip to and from peace grove.

It is said that the auto driver who drove Judge Carbajal and Senator Obregon to peace grove, each day from the station, had the bottom of his auto filled with cartridges for the insurgents who could hardly get his car over the sand hills on the road from Juarez to the grove. The ammunition was loaded into the auto at the station, according to the story that is being told. It was packed away under the seat of the auto.

Then the day would be driven to the Shoshone, where the peace envoys would take seats in the car and make the trip to peace grove. When known that there was enough ammunition under the seats, they were occupying to kill a regiment.

The car was not inspected when it passed through Juarez because the peace envoys occupied it. After they disembarked the driver would run his car into a shed, presumably to wait for the conference to end, but in reality to unload his deadly cargo.

In this way it is claimed that 250,000 rounds of ammunition were carried across to the insurgent camp and the entire auto driver received $1 per 1000 rounds for his trouble.

ARIZONA WANTS A BIG JOBS HAVE BEEN STARTED AT THE DAM

Water Appropriations Are
Finally Granted to Com-
pany Which Will Irrigate
80,000 Acres in Northwest.

Farthington, N. M., July 27.—After three years of litigation between applicants for a water appropriation from the Animas river, Furman & Burke have been granted the right to water 80,000 acres of land lying on the west side of the Animas river just south of the Colorado state line in the northwest corner of New Mexico. It is a previous contract the water rights were transferred to the Capital Securities company, which will begin at once the preliminary work for a large canal.

When Furman & Burke made their application three years ago for an appropriation just below the state line, the territorial engineer located it on the grounds that he had already appropriated the water to Jay Turner of Aztec. Turner's scheme was to take the water from the same land with a heading in Colorado. Turner was taken to the highest court and he failed in a victory for Furman & Burke.

The land to be irrigated is all fine farm land and has practically all been fluted upon. Some of the best is known as the Meadows and lies west of the Animas river, which will have to be fluted. This is north of the settlements of Kirtland, Jeddah and Portland and is held by homesteaders and desert claimants. It is currently reported that the fluted lands extend to the line of the San Juan river from Farthington to the settlements, and there are rumors that a townsite scheme is soon to be launched along the north side of the San Juan river near the reservation line. The Meadows country would all be tributary to such a townsite.

Aside from the Meadows coming under irrigation the western part of the county has large deposits of coal which the Southern Pacific is contemplating tapping. Development reports show that it has every indication of being an oil basin and two oil wells are now prospecting for oil near Portland. There are two districts that can furnish cheap electricity. Already one electric scheme is well under way for the purpose of pumping water to higher points.

It is understood that Furman & Burke retain an interest in the Capital Securities company, and will have actual charge of the work.

PEACE ENVOYS
SAT OVER POWDER

Sideline on the Mexican Revolution
Showing How the Insurgents Smuggled Ammunition Across Border.

El Paso, Texas, July 27.—Sideline on the Mexican revolution, little touches of color that were lost in the shuffle of the battle or the accompanying confusion, are now coming to light. The newest addition to the military history of the revolution is a story that the peace commissioners who were here to represent the federal government in the negotiations which took place in peace grove, literally were sitting on high explosives each time they made a trip to and from peace grove.

It is said that the auto driver who drove Judge Carbajal and Senator Obregon to peace grove, each day from the station, had the bottom of his auto filled with cartridges for the insurgents who could hardly get his car over the sand hills on the road from Juarez to the grove. The ammunition was loaded into the auto at the station, according to the story that is being told. It was packed away under the seat of the auto.

Then the day would be driven to the Shoshone, where the peace envoys would take seats in the car and make the trip to peace grove. When known that there was enough ammunition under the seats, they were occupying to kill a regiment.

The car was not inspected when it passed through Juarez because the peace envoys occupied it. After they disembarked the driver would run his car into a shed, presumably to wait for the conference to end, but in reality to unload his deadly cargo.

In this way it is claimed that 250,000 rounds of ammunition were carried across to the insurgent camp and the entire auto driver received $1 per 1000 rounds for his trouble.

ARIZONA WANTS A BIG JOBS HAVE BEEN STARTED AT THE DAM

Water Appropriations Are
Finally Granted to Com-
pany Which Will Irrigate
80,000 Acres in Northwest.

Farthington, N. M., July 27.—After three years of litigation between applicants for a water appropriation from the Animas river, Furman & Burke have been granted the right to water 80,000 acres of land lying on the west side of the Animas river just south of the Colorado state line in the northwest corner of New Mexico. It is a previous contract the water rights were transferred to the Capital Securities company, which will begin at once the preliminary work for a large canal.

When Furman & Burke made their application three years ago for an appropriation just below the state line, the territorial engineer located it on the grounds that he had already appropriated the water to Jay Turner of Aztec. Turner's scheme was to take the water from the same land with a heading in Colorado. Turner was taken to the highest court and he failed in a victory for Furman & Burke.

The land to be irrigated is all fine farm land and has practically all been fluted upon. Some of the best is known as the Meadows and lies west of the Animas river, which will have to be fluted. This is north of the settlements of Kirtland, Jeddah and Portland and is held by homesteaders and desert claimants. It is currently reported that the fluted lands extend to the line of the San Juan river from Farthington to the settlements, and there are rumors that a townsite scheme is soon to be launched along the north side of the San Juan river near the reservation line. The Meadows country would all be tributary to such a townsite.

Aside from the Meadows coming under irrigation the western part of the county has large deposits of coal which the Southern Pacific is contemplating tapping. Development reports show that it has every indication of being an oil basin and two oil wells are now prospecting for oil near Portland. There are two districts that can furnish cheap electricity. Already one electric scheme is well under way for the purpose of pumping water to higher points.

It is understood that Furman & Burke retain an interest in the Capital Securities company, and will have actual charge of the work.

PEACE ENVOYS
SAT OVER POWDER

Sideline on the Mexican Revolution
Showing How the Insurgents Smuggled Ammunition Across Border.

El Paso, Texas, July 27.—Sideline on the Mexican revolution, little touches of color that were lost in the shuffle of the battle or the accompanying confusion, are now coming to light. The newest addition to the military history of the revolution is a story that the peace commissioners who were here to represent the federal government in the negotiations which took place in peace grove, literally were sitting on high explosives each time they made a trip to and from peace grove.

It is said that the auto driver who drove Judge Carbajal and Senator Obregon to peace grove, each day from the station, had the bottom of his auto filled with cartridges for the insurgents who could hardly get his car over the sand hills on the road from Juarez to the grove. The ammunition was loaded into the auto at the station, according to the story that is being told. It was packed away under the seat of the auto.

Then the day would be driven to the Shoshone, where the peace envoys would take seats in the car and make the trip to peace grove. When known that there was enough ammunition under the seats, they were occupying to kill a regiment.

The car was not inspected when it passed through Juarez because the peace envoys occupied it. After they disembarked the driver would run his car into a shed, presumably to wait for the conference to end, but in reality to unload his deadly cargo.

In this way it is claimed that 250,000 rounds of ammunition were carried across to the insurgent camp and the entire auto driver received $1 per 1000 rounds for his trouble.

ARIZONA WANTS A BIG JOBS HAVE BEEN STARTED AT THE DAM

Water Appropriations Are
Finally Granted to Com-
pany Which Will Irrigate
80,000 Acres in Northwest.

Farthington, N. M., July 27.—After three years of litigation between applicants for a water appropriation from the Animas river, Furman & Burke have been granted the right to water 80,000 acres of land lying on the west side of the Animas river just south of the Colorado state line in the northwest corner of New Mexico. It is a previous contract the water rights were transferred to the Capital Securities company, which will begin at once the preliminary work for a large canal.

When Furman & Burke made their application three years ago for an appropriation just below the state line, the territorial engineer located it on the grounds that he had already appropriated the water to Jay Turner of Aztec. Turner's scheme was to take the water from the same land with a heading in Colorado. Turner was taken to the highest court and he failed in a victory for Furman & Burke.

The land to be irrigated is all fine farm land and has practically all been fluted upon. Some of the best is known as the Meadows and lies west of the Animas river, which will have to be fluted. This is north of the settlements of Kirtland, Jeddah and Portland and is held by homesteaders and desert claimants. It is currently reported that the fluted lands extend to the line of the San Juan river from Farthington to the settlements, and there are rumors that a townsite scheme is soon to be launched along the north side of the San Juan river near the reservation line. The Meadows country would all be tributary to such a townsite.

Aside from the Meadows coming under irrigation the western part of the county has large deposits of coal which the Southern Pacific is contemplating tapping. Development reports show that it has every indication of being an oil basin and two oil wells are now prospecting for oil near Portland. There are two districts that can furnish cheap electricity. Already one electric scheme is well under way for the purpose of pumping water to higher points.

It is understood that Furman & Burke retain an interest in the Capital Securities company, and will have actual charge of the work.

PEACE ENVOYS
SAT OVER POWDER

Sideline on the Mexican Revolution
Showing How the Insurgents Smuggled Ammunition Across Border.

El Paso, Texas, July 27.—Sideline on the Mexican revolution, little touches of color that were lost in the shuffle of the battle or the accompanying confusion, are now coming to light. The newest addition to the military history of the revolution is a story that the peace commissioners who were here to represent the federal government in the negotiations which took place in peace grove, literally were sitting on high explosives each time they made a trip to and from peace grove.

It is said that the auto driver who drove Judge Carbajal and Senator Obregon to peace grove, each day from the station, had the bottom of his auto filled with cartridges for the insurgents who could hardly get his car over the sand hills on the road from Juarez to the grove. The ammunition was loaded into the auto at the station, according to the story that is being told. It was packed away under the seat of the auto.

Then the day would be driven to the Shoshone, where the peace envoys would take seats in the car and make the trip to peace grove. When known that there was enough ammunition under the seats, they were occupying to kill a regiment.

The car was not inspected when it passed through Juarez because the peace envoys occupied it. After they disembarked the driver would run his car into a shed, presumably to wait for the conference to end, but in reality to unload his deadly cargo.

In this way it is claimed that 250,000 rounds of ammunition were carried across to the insurgent camp and the entire auto driver received $1 per 1000 rounds for his trouble.

Cures Health and Happiness to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Scottville, Mich.—"I want to tell you how much good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me. I live on a farm and have worked very hard. I am forty-five years old, and am the mother of thirteen children. Many people think it strange that I am not broken down with hard work and the care of my family, but I tell them of my good friend, your Vegetable Compound, and that there will be no backache and dragging pains for them if they will take it as I have. I am scarcely ever without it in the house.

"I will say also that I think there is no better medicine to be found for young girls to build them up, regulate, and make them well. My eldest daughter has taken the Compound for painful, irregular periods, and it has always helped her. "I am always ready and willing to speak a good word for the Lydia E. Pinkham's Remedies. I tell every one I meet that I love my health and happiness to these wonderful medicines."—Mrs. J. G. Johnson, Scottville, Mich., R. F. D. 3.

When shown such positive and reliable proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound really does cure such cases wouldn't any sensible woman conclude that the same remedy would also benefit her if suffering the same?

MORE GENUINE AND CONVINCING PROOF:

Elwood, Ind.—"I was sick three months and could not walk. I suffered all the time. I tried doctors, and they said I could not get well without an operation. I could hardly stand the pain, but my right side was the worse. I couldn't sleep at night, and I was troubled with a weakness. "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me. I began to feel better when I had taken only one bottle, but I kept on until I was cured."—Mrs. Sadie Mullen, 2728 N. B. Street, Elwood, Ind.

What more proof can any one ask?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit. Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

ARIZONA CATTLEMEN INVESTORS SEEK AN ARE PROSPEROUS OPENING IN MEXICO

Foreign Capital Inquiring As to Possibility of New Projects: Shows Restoration of Confidence.

Mexico City, Mexico, July 27.—That new foreign capital is preparing to enter Mexico in the immediate future and that corporations which have invested in this country in the past are preparing to carry out new projects, is the statement of Ernesto Madero, minister of finance.

"Inquiries made at the department of hacienda show that foreign capital is looking forward Mexico," said Mr. Madero yesterday. "In addition to the Belgian bank which will do business in Mexico, announcement of which was made a short time ago, there are indications of other banks being organized with foreign capital for the purpose of doing business in this country.

"Important financial interests in Berlin and Antwerp have in effect a bank which will have headquarters in Mexico City. Further than this, there is a bank projected for Chihuahua, to be financed by French interests, which will have a capital of $1,000,000. A commission already has been given to Spanish capitalists for a bank which will be established in Puebla with a capital of $2,000,000, whose principal business will be loans on agricultural lands and which will carry crops for the farmer until he can arrange to dispose of his produce.

"There is a company which has a subscription for a railway in the state of Jalisco, which is ready to go to work without delay. The company is financed by French and other foreign interests. The bonds are to be guaranteed by the state and matters are at a standstill at present, as Jalisco is without a legislature. This condition of affairs will not continue longer than two or three weeks more and with the state guarantee put on the bonds the work will proceed.

"Foreign capital seems to have realized that the recent troubles are only skin-deep and were the almost inevitable consequence of the revolution. "The marketing out of the revolutionaries' treasury has been delayed in two states only, Puebla and Sonora, and the indications are that it will soon be finished in both. Reports from Puebla indicate that the marketing out is proceeding rapidly and normal conditions should be restored within a short time."

Scotch fishing skin. Heals cuts or burns without a scar. Cures piles, psoriasis, skin itching, any itching, pruritus, eczema, etc. Your Druggist sells it.

The Proper Place.
"What do you do with those rasping letters?"
"Put them on file."—Haltmore American.

Try a Herald Want Ad

SPECIAL CAR FOR CURRY COUNTY TEACHERS

Will Travel to Meeting of Territorial Teachers' Association in Santa Fe in Fall in Style.

(Special Correspondence to the Herald)
Clovis, N. M., July 27.—The Curry County Teachers' association met in the Clovis high school building yesterday, many teachers being in attendance. Following preliminary business, the election of officers was held, resulting as follows:

Chairman, V. E. Griffin of Clovis; Vice-Chairman, C. F. Ford of Blackwater; Secretary and Treasurer, Miss Emma Ryter of Clovis.

Plans were then discussed and committees appointed to arrange the program for the next county association which will be held in Tucuman the other part of October. A motion was passed to request the Pecos Valley association to change the date of their annual meeting from Thanksgiving to the Christmas holidays. The change was requested an account of the change in the date of the territorial association which is now to meet the 20, 21 and 22 of November in Santa Fe. The teachers of Curry county are planning to charter a car and go to the conference in Santa Fe. They hope by their large number to be prominent in the many of the teachers to make a very creditable showing for Clovis and eastern New Mexico. They will also use their influence toward securing the eastern New Mexico normal school for Clovis.

RHODES' SCHOLAR IN MAIDEN SERMON

Charles Spaulding, Theological Student at Oxford, Ellis Pulpit of Dr. Henry Martin Campbell in Phoenix.

Phoenix, Ariz., July 27.—Charles Spaulding, a theological student who has followed his studies at Oxford university as a Rhodes scholar from Arizona, preached his maiden sermon in this city yesterday morning.

Piling Dr. Henry Martin Campbell's pulpit by the request of the session, the Presbyterian church, Mr. Spaulding attracted a large audience, many of people who knew or had known him personally. The close attention accorded his remarks was a tribute to the scholarly development of his theme and a mark of the admiration of his friends for his great ambition to enter the ministry with an education fitted to the task of teaching others the meaning and value of the scriptures.

While still in England Mr. Spaulding received a request from the session of the Presbyterian church of this city to take Dr. Campbell's place during his absence in the east, and the sermon yesterday morning is the first of a series which will be delivered during the remaining weeks of the summer.